

16th Annual Healthcare Symposium: Pharmacist Provided Continuing Education

SATURDAY | MAY 21, 2022

Location

This conference will be held online via Zoom. Please visit camcmedicine.edu/virtual-conferences and click on "Pharmacy Education" for registration, instructions, and conference link.

LIVE Online Learning:

Today's program is being offered as a live online conference. CAMC Institute for Academic Medicine must be able to verify your identity and your participation in this online event in order to issue any credits. Because this conference offers Continuing Education credits, participants are expected to be physically present for the duration of the session. This means that participants are required to be seated in front of their cameras with the cameras turned on during all sessions. Frequent breaks will be part of the agenda. If you are unable to use a camera during the conference, you will not be issued any credit because CAMC Institute for Academic Medicine will be unable to verify your identity and participation. If you need assistance with any technology, please contact us in advance and our team will be happy to help out as we can.

Program overview

The West Virginia Pharmacist Education Conference will provide an opportunity for pharmacy residents from West Virginia to provide continuing education to the interdisciplinary healthcare team in the tri-state area. This conference will offer current health care practitioners the opportunity to network with future leaders in the field of medicine. The target audience for this conference is interdisciplinary and includes: pharmacists, pharmacy residents, residency program directors and preceptors, physicians, physician assistants, and nurse practitioners.

By attending this conference the participants should be able to:

- Incorporate new information presented at this conference into a daily practice;
- Review new drug therapy guidelines and/or practices;
- Compare/contrast new practice perspectives or service suggestions;
- Develop professional contacts with peers and colleagues throughout the tri-state region
